To complete this report, please answer the following:

1. Please describe here how your course fulfills the Global Studies Initiative goals at the beginning of this document. Please also mention if any of the world areas in this initiative are covered in your course (European Union, Russia, Eastern Europe, Eurasia).

This project focuses on fashion in Europe and the United States during World War II. This section of HIS 105 has a global focus and delves into many aspects of the World War in its global arena.

2. Please explain how the Honors Project you supervised fit into your course’s curriculum and learning objectives. Please describe the format of this project. Was the project an expanded version of your class final assignment? Was it work done in addition to the regular class load?

History 105 focused on global connections to events, people and ideas in the History of the United States from 1877 to the present. Lectures, discussions and activities highlighted the plethora of relationships that tie the history of the United States to the history of the world. The Course Project offered students an excellent opportunity to explore aspects of the global relationships the United States has with the world. In addition, the general education requirements for this class indicate that students will be able to demonstrate their understanding of the benefits of diversity in cultures, ideas, perspectives, ethnicity, religion, gender, and sexual orientation for a democratic society.

The Honors Project completed for this class required additional research and analysis. The assignment was completed in addition to the regular class load.

3. Please provide a brief description of how the Honors Project that you supervised helped your student gain knowledge of and engage with global studies issues, or issues from any of the world areas in the Global Studies Initiative.

The student did extensive research into the social and cultural history of Europe during the 1940s. This data was compared to information and analysis regarding the United States. This allowed the student to understand how global society and culture were becoming more influential and connected.

4. Could you see yourself supervising similar Honors projects in future semesters? Was there anything about the format or process that you would improve?

It would be beneficial to students and professor to continue to oversee Honors Projects in future semesters. There are no changes in the format or process I would change.
