MLA Works Cited for Audiovisual Sources: Films, Television Shows, YouTube Videos, TED Talks, Webinars, and Podcasts Handout courtesy of Angela Gulick

A Note about Authors, Creators, and other Contributors

Some audiovisual sources are listed by the name of the production itself (films and television shows), and some are listed by who wrote/created/hosted them (YouTube and other streaming videos, TED Talks, webinars, and podcasts). In sources where the names of authors/creators are required, follow the rules in the table below.

Number of Authors/Creators	Works Cited Entry Beginning
No Named Author/Creator	"Title of Source." Or Title of Source. >>> Alphabetize by the first major word of the title not counting A, An, and The.
Article with One Author/Creator	Author/Creator's Last Name, First Name Middle Initial.
Article with Two Authors/Creators	Author/Creator's Last Name, First Name Middle Initial., and First Name Middle Initial. Last Name of second author/creator.
Article with Three or More Authors/Creators	Author/Creator's Last Name, First Name Middle Initial., et al. >>> et al. = and others
Article with Group Author/Creator	Name of Group Author.

Italicizing a Title versus "Enclosing Title in Quotation Marks"

If your source is a smaller work out of a larger work (a specific episode of a television show or podcast), enclose the title in "quotation marks." If your source is the entire work (a film, television series, podcast series, or name of a website) italicize the title.
