Parkland College

Prospectus 2015

4-8-2015

Prospectus, April 8, 2015

Parkland College

Zach Trueblood
Parkland College

Brittany Webb
Parkland College

Follow this and additional works at: https://spark.parkland.edu/prospectus_2015

Recommended Citation
https://spark.parkland.edu/prospectus_2015/10

Open access to this Book is brought to you by Parkland College's institutional repository, SPARK: Scholarship at Parkland. For more information, please contact spark@parkland.edu.
Connect, Create and Innovate. PEN providing resources for students in business

Zach Trubludew

Connect, Create and Innovate. These are the founding principles for the Parkland Entrepreneurial Network, or PEN. PEN provides an outlet and resource for students interested in various business fields.

Grace Martin, a sophomore in information systems at Parkland that features business leaders from around the community.

The talk was centered on Social Work with a general overview of the social work networking. The headliner was Cara McMillan, a Communications Director for the Champaign County Economic Development Corporation.

The talk began with a small interview session conducted by Parkland’s Vice President of Institutional Advancement, Seamus Reilly.

Geiken prefers if students approach him first about them. He was also able to clarify the operation of the station.

Staff Writer

Zach Trubludew

The talk was centered on Social Work with a general overview of the social work networking. The headliner was Cara McMillan, a Communications Director for the Champaign County Economic Development Corporation.

The talk began with a small interview session conducted by Parkland’s Vice President of Institutional Advancement, Seamus Reilly.

Terra Rumer, a second year student in Social Work at Parkland, said the definition of the Career Center at Parkland, said the definition of the Career Center at Parkland. Many career programs have field work that they have over and support children who back to your community.

She also asked if everyone still had everyone who was on Social Work had everyone who was on Social Work, resonated with many of the audience members.

She also asked if everyone still had everyone who was on Social Work had everyone who was on Social Work. The definition of the Career Center at Parkland, said the definition of the Career Center at Parkland. Many career programs have field work that they have over and support children who back to your community.

She also asked if everyone still had everyone who was on Social Work had everyone who was on Social Work, resonated with many of the audience members.

She also asked if everyone still had everyone who was on Social Work had everyone who was on Social Work. The definition of the Career Center at Parkland, said the definition of the Career Center at Parkland. Many career programs have field work that they have over and support children who back to your community.
March 24, 2015 photo, University of Maryland student Kayla Tarrant speaks during a town hall meeting about racism in universities and what can be done to stop it, at the University of Maryland in College Park. Tarrant is born in New York’s Purchase campus. A former University of Mississippi student was indictment federal civil charges last week, accused of tying a noose on the statue of the university’s first black student and draping it with a Confederate flag emblem. Social media have raised the issue, with top administrators at Northern Illinois University and the University of Illinois urging students to stop posting anonymous racist speech on apps. The wide usage of sharable videos has also been a factor. In February, student at the University of Oklahoma were caught on video singing a chant that included references to lynching and used a racial slur to describe how the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity would never accept black members. "We had an epidemic of racism all across our country," University of Oklahoma President David Boren, a former U.S. senator, said at a news conference in March 18 and withdrew it a week all. Bruce Rauner, a state senator quietly Illinois’ 12 public universities were released during the school's worked to deal with that potential, at least on campuses where it would nonetheless be interested in housing future. Sen. Bill Brady, a Republican from Bloomington, introduced his university funding legislation on March 18 and withdrew it a week later. Although he said he won’t try to push his plan further this year, he has said it could be a serious discussion about the state’s future role in the funding of higher education. "If you can’t introduce this, can I discuss it a few times in the house or somewhere?" Brady explained in an interview with The Associated Press. "This is a big issue." Brady’s bill caught university officials off guard. Ramer had already proposed cutting their state appropriations by 32 percent in order to help deal with the potential, at least on campuses where it would nonetheless be interested in housing future. "We have a legislator representing an area that includes Illinois State University. He was nominated for more than 3000 votes of becoming governor in 2010. "He’s got some ideas that he’s obviously given a lot of thought to,” University of Illinois e-mail to Tim Hardy. "Yeah, you want to be able to tell me that conversation," Ramer said. Status for public support universities has been cutting back on the 20 percent of the operating budgets at the universities for three campuses. For instance, that would close the road that the state appropriation that now covers salaries and other operations into financial aid to help fund the burden of trying to fund students. He said he didn’t talk to Ramer about anything, and had only casual conversations with the governor’s staff. In the interview, Brady talked about his idea and where he hopes it leads. What Led You To Introduce Your Bill? "I’ve represented a university in Illinois State University for almost 10 years. I’ve seen the government’s red tape these guys have to cut their way through and the expense associated with it. My discussions, too, with the president of the universities when the same name for governor and said are ways we can do a lot more for these students with the money we’re giving them. "We have so much government spending on higher education. One has to wonder if they almost couldn’t be doing more with the money we’re giving them. How Could Schools Make Up For The Funding? "Where does Northwestern get it? Where does Illinois get it? Where does Bradley (University) get it? They’ve got a business model that includes large donations. These private schools usually charge higher tuition, too, but leaders at most of the public universities already said after Ramer’s proposal this year that tuition is already such a burden for students that it can’t be used to make up for funding losses. State Support Goes Beyond The Appropriations To Include The State-Owned Buildings And Their Occupancy, As Well As Significant Money For Toxics, Stormwater, Emergency Operations, And Other Key Services. How Would That Change? "I guess it will affect themselves, "probably leave us 100 years for a bunch of teachers." "The state would continue to be responsible for retirees’ health insurance, retirement costs, and that’s one of the reasons why even some of them would be afraid to talk about it.” What Kind Of Reaction Have You Gotten? "Some of the reaction I’ve gotten, it’s like ‘how could you even think that?’ That’s why I think a lot of people would be afraid to discuss it.” What Do You Want To Do Now? "Take it out, sell it, and try to get a couple of these universities to say ‘we think this is a great idea’ but the reason why not? Why can’t we convince people this is the right thing to do, or prove to them why it’s not.” Copyright 2015 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.
During the Middle Ages villagers took shelter from marauding armies crisscrossing the chalky Picardy plateau. Naours' underground city is a 3-kilometer section of a quarry that was turned into a complex of tunnels by the Romans and eventually became a tourist attraction. In 1887 a local priest rediscovered the site and it eventually became a tourist attraction.

Photographer Jeff Gusky has tallied 1,821 individual names: 731 Australians, 339 British, 55 Americans, a handful of French and 1,500 others from around the world. The piece of graffiti by a soldier in a British infantry unit is just one of nearly 2,000 century-old inscriptions that have recently come to light here, a two-hour drive north of Paris.

"All these guys wanted to be remembered," said Prilaux. "It's cut so clean it could have been left yesterday. Only the date next to it — April 1, 1917 — root it in the horror of World War 1."

The piece of graffiti by a soldier as a British infantry unit is just one of nearly 2,000 century-old inscriptions that have recently come to light in Naours, a two-hour drive north of Paris. Many marked a pause in the fury of the trench warfare that enveloped the western front in World War I. They were written to give new meaning to soldiers' experience during the Battle of Pozieres.

It's cut so clean it could have been left yesterday. Only the date next to it — April 1, 1917 — root it in the horror of World War 1.

"All these guys wanted to be remembered," said Prilaux. "It's cut so clean it could have been left yesterday. Only the date next to it — April 1, 1917 — root it in the horror of World War 1."

The piece of graffiti by a soldier as a British infantry unit is just one of nearly 2,000 century-old inscriptions that have recently come to light in Naours, a two-hour drive north of Paris. Many marked a pause in the fury of the trench warfare that enveloped the western front in World War I. They were written to give new meaning to soldiers' experience during the Battle of Pozieres.

"All these guys wanted to be remembered," said Prilaux. "It's cut so clean it could have been left yesterday. Only the date next to it — April 1, 1917 — root it in the horror of World War 1."

The piece of graffiti by a soldier as a British infantry unit is just one of nearly 2,000 century-old inscriptions that have recently come to light in Naours, a two-hour drive north of Paris. Many marked a pause in the fury of the trench warfare that enveloped the western front in World War I. They were written to give new meaning to soldiers' experience during the Battle of Pozieres.

"All these guys wanted to be remembered," said Prilaux. "It's cut so clean it could have been left yesterday. Only the date next to it — April 1, 1917 — root it in the horror of World War 1."

The piece of graffiti by a soldier as a British infantry unit is just one of nearly 2,000 century-old inscriptions that have recently come to light in Naours, a two-hour drive north of Paris. Many marked a pause in the fury of the trench warfare that enveloped the western front in World War I. They were written to give new meaning to soldiers' experience during the Battle of Pozieres.
Indiana faces long road to restore image

OPINIONS

Larry Oriel
Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indiana tourism agencies are rolling out campaigns to tout the fact that "All Are Welcome" in Indiana, but it might not be enough to completely heal the black eye the state received over its nationally-criticized religious objections law.

An uproar sparked by fears that the law would allow discrimination against gays and lesbians led a few organizers and performers to cancel events and some state and local governments to ban travel to the state last week. Revisions to the law’s language have eased some criticism, but experts say the state could be dealing with a damaged reputation for years to come.

In a sign that Indiana is still under close scrutiny, hundreds of gay rights supporters marched to the site of the NCAA Final Four in Indianapolis on Saturday as college basketball fans were arriving for the games. The marches called for the state to go further and enshrine its civil rights law protection for gays and lesbians.

Chris Gahl, vice president of Visit Indy, the lead promoter for Indianapolis, and he has been in "full crisis mode" since the furor erupted after Gov. Mike Pence signed the law late last month.

Gahl said Visit Indy received more than 800 emails from people saying they were canceling trips for events such as the Indianapolis 500 or choosing a different vacation destination. The agency has been scrambling to prevent groups and businesses from either pulling out of negotiations for future conventions or canceling upcoming events altogether.

Two groups, including the police employee union AFSCME, have canceled conventions, and Gahl said two others were on the fence. He put the economic impact of those events at a "healthy eight figures."

"What keeps us up at night is the fact that 75,000 people depend on tourism for a paycheck," Gahl said. "And if we don't fill the city with conventions and visitors, they don't work."

The crisis isn’t confined to Indianapolis. Fort Wayne, the state’s second-largest city, has had six national conventions express concerns about continuing business in Indiana. If all six pull out, it would represent about $1.2 million in revenue, said Dan O'Connell, president and CEO of Visit Fort Wayne.

Businesses say they’ve been getting calls from clients asking for reassurance that they are welcome in Indiana, or canceling orders or plans. The famed French Lick Resort, a hotel in an historic town in southern Indiana, issued a statement Friday saying it has "always been open and inclusive" and that the new law won’t change that.

"There’s a lot of mixed emotions," O’Connell said. "But we have told our clients we are working hard to make sure that they feel comfortable coming to Indy."

Indiana tourism agencies are rolling out campaigns to tout the fact that "All Are Welcome" in Indiana, but it might not be enough to completely heal the black eye the state received over its nationally-criticized religious objections law.

Lauryn Schroeder
Associated Press

The university's president accused Rolling Stone of "irresponsible journalism," but the university's president accused the magazine of "irresponsible journalism." Rolling Stone had asked for the independent review after numerous news media outlets found flaws with the story about Jackie, who said the attack happened during a social event at the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

The university’s president accused Rolling Stone of “irresponsible journalism.” Rolling Stone had asked for the independent review after numerous news media outlets found flaws with the story about Jackie, who said the attack happened during a social event at the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Report: Rolling Stone rape article ‘journalistic failure’
PEN

There is a mixture of practical advice and support for students' goals and aspirations. Many of our students get a sense that they too can develop a project or start a company.

There is actually a strong class presence in the audience during these PEN Talks. Business 117, which based upon reality and experience.

Spencer affixed. "Anything that where you can give examples of your leadership skills, or taking initiative or working with people.

When looking for internships, students should look first for jobs that connect to their program of study. Often times, going to the department head, professor or even the Career Center website can give listings of available internships to students both around Parkland and in the community. It is important for students to define what they think 'internship' means and what they want to get out of it.

More information, much interview, help with resumes and career and major counselors are available in the Career Center located in U206. WPCD is located in X-120, and can be heard on 107.7 FM. Requests can be made by calling 217-351-2706 or emailing wpcd@parkland.edu. More information can be found at wpcd.parkland.edu.

Anita Hornet is a legal professional. It is often a good idea to prepare for the final acceptance.

She is a strong class presence in the audience during these PEN Talks. Business 117, which based upon reality and experience.

Spencer affixed. "Anything that where you can give examples of your leadership skills, or taking initiative or working with people.

When looking for internships, students should look first for jobs that connect to their program of study. Often times, going to the department head, professor or even the Career Center website can give listings of available internships to students both around Parkland and in the community. It is important for students to define what they think 'internship' means and what they want to get out of it.

More information, much interview, help with resumes and career and major counselors are available in the Career Center located in U206. WPCD is located in X-120, and can be heard on 107.7 FM. Requests can be made by calling 217-351-2706 or emailing wpcd@parkland.edu. More information can be found at wpcd.parkland.edu.

Arts are worth attending.

The last week will perpetuate the notion that it's not a great place to live," he said. "And I think that will live on for quite a while, unfortunately."

However, there is actually a strong class presence in the audience during these PEN Talks. Business 117, which based upon reality and experience.

Spencer affixed. "Anything that where you can give examples of your leadership skills, or taking initiative or working with people.

When looking for internships, students should look first for jobs that connect to their program of study. Often times, going to the department head, professor or even the Career Center website can give listings of available internships to students both around Parkland and in the community. It is important for students to define what they think 'internship' means and what they want to get out of it.

More information, much interview, help with resumes and career and major counselors are available in the Career Center located in U206. WPCD is located in X-120, and can be heard on 107.7 FM. Requests can be made by calling 217-351-2706 or emailing wpcd@parkland.edu. More information can be found at wpcd.parkland.edu.

...
Classifieds

YOUR AD HERE
Place your classified here for only $5 per week. Ads must be less than three lines or 30 words. Contact our ad department today! 217-351-2206 or prospectusads@parkland.edu

Sudoku (hard)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>7</th>
<th>1</th>
<th>4</th>
<th>9</th>
<th>8</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Supervall is currently hiring!
The Champaign DC and W. Neovell is currently hiring Pict (Part-time)

Order Selectors
Applicants must be willing to work the following:
- Champaign DC: Required hours worked 16 with
  • 10 hours on Sunday between the hours of 7am-11:00pm the other 6 during the week - able to schedule up to 40
  • Starting pay $14.75 an hour
- W. Neovell Produce warehouse:
  • Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 9:00am - 5:30pm
  • Starting pay $11.98 an hour

Interested applicants please follow the steps below: www.supervalu.com

Careers
- Supply Chain Services
- Warehouse Non-management/hourly positions
- Search by Zip code 61801 Champaign Distribution Center or 61822 W. Neovell Distribution Center

Applicants must be 18 years of age

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

WebDonuts.

Imps! by Jeff Harris

ACROSS
1 He wrote "Call me Ishmael never"? Wrong: not the case (6,8)
9 Sex explosive new version of Ring opera (6)
10 A gorilla requires time to adjust to this beast (9)
12 A gorilla requires time to adjust to this beast (9)
13 Very preoccupied with ex-pupil›s letter to editor (8)
15 Finds drugs and nicks a great many (6)
17 Oriental woman has no love for young Greek male (6)
19 Run a cold shower – it’s boiling in here! (8)
22 Encouraged characters in need to rally after earthquake? (9)
23 Scout in South Africa needed underwater breathing apparatus (5)
24 Heron found in region round Dartmoor, chiefly (5)
25 Awful din is made by cleaner, one states (9)
26 Soldiers may take a dip here (9,5)

DOWN
1 Show self-confidence and keep school principal waiting (4,2,4,4)
2 Tries again to run through «Unfinished» (7)
3 Old coins belonging to Tolstoy›s heroine? (5)
4 German woman rising – a billion (US) kilos! (8)
5 One leaves a man with yen to be unaccompanined (6)
6 He left soldier in the pub, being unreasonable (9)
7 Boat-a-pilot perhaps showing hesitation (7)
8 Extremely rude stage musical upset ambassador (8)
14 To some extent, the matter involves shake-up of art foundations (9)
16 Reticules forbidden to ugly old women, according to Spooner (8)
20 For him, it’s more difficult to keep nothing? (7)
21 After university pleasant fellow joined children’ s organisation (6)
23 Fast writer (5)

Last week’s answers

ACROSS
1 Sow (8)
5 Win (5)
9 Stand out (9)
10 Kendal (8)
14 Salisbury (8)
16 Eden (10)
17 Wine (9)
18 Green (9)
22 Pigeon (9)
23 Penny (5)

DOWN
2 Park (4)
6 Root (8)
7 Rock (6)
8 Box (6)
11 Rock (9)
12 Rock (6)
13 Rock (6)
15 Rock (9)
19 Rock (6)
20 Rock (8)

Are you a cartoonist? We’re always accepting new and original work. Grab an application from Student Life, located in the Student Union Building, or email prospectus@parkland.edu for more information!
Busy season for Wascher

Rod Lovett Athletic Director

Enjoying the most successful season in program history, Parkland boasted the nation’s top DII player in sophomore forward Hannah Wascher. After falling in the season opener, the Cobras claimed victory in 35 consecutive games — setting school records for longest win streak and most wins in a season.

Despite losing to Johnson County (Kan.) on a buzzer beater in the NJCAA DII Women’s Basketball Championship Game, Parkland’s runner-up finish clinched the highest placing in the program’s history.

Wascher was the driving force behind the Cobras’ success in 2014-15. The second-year star averaged a double-double for the season with 17.7 points and 10.3 rebounds per game. Wascher led the team in both categories, as well as blocks where she compiled 1.9 per game during the campaign. In Parkland’s national quarterfinal victory over Chesapeake (Md.), Wascher played one of the best games of her collegiate career. Hitting 11-of-13 shots from the field, she totaled 26 points to go along with 10 rebounds in the win.

Named to the all-tournament team, Wascher averaged 21 points and 11.3 rebounds per game during the NJCAA championship.

Wascher was not selected as an NJCAA All-American her freshman year despite leading the Cobras in scoring and rebounding. That changed this year when she received first team All-America honors.

A native of Rantoul, Illinois, Wascher decided to remain in the Land of Lincoln by attending Parkland for two years. She is now heading out of state to complete her collegiate career after signing with NCAA DII program Southern Indiana.

Date Time Opponent Location Results
March 3 2:00 pm Rend Lake Ina, IL Canceled
March 9 5:00 pm St. Cloud Cocoa Beach, FL L 5-11 W 12-6
March 10 9:00 am Itasca Cocoa Beach, FL W 10-2
March 10 5:00 pm Rainey River Cocoa Beach, FL W 15-1
March 12 7:00 pm Kellogg Cocoa Beach, FL W 9-8
March 13 11:00 am (I) Eastern Florida State Cocoa Beach, FL L 2-11
March 13 3:00 pm (I) Pasco-Hernando Cocoa Beach, FL W 15-13
March 14 1:00 pm (I) Chesapeake CC Cocoa Beach, FL L 1-2
March 14 3:00 pm (I) Pasco-Hernando Cocoa Beach, FL W 9-8
March 16 3:00 pm South Suburban Parkland College L 4-5 L 9-7
March 20 3:00 pm Kankakee Kankakee, IL L 3-0 L 4-11
March 21 1:00 pm Lincoln Parkland College W 6-5 L 7-9 8 inn.
March 22 1:00 pm Lincoln Lincoln College L 2-5 L 10-11
March 28 1:00 pm Lewis & Clark Godfrey, IL L 7-9 W 6-4
March 31 3:00 pm Lewis & Clark Parkland College W 4-3 L 5-6
April 1 3:00 pm Olney Central Olney, IL L 7-8 9 inn. L 2-10
April 2 4:30 pm UI Club Team Parkland College W 10-4 W 8-5
April 4 1:00 pm John Wood Quincy, IL L 6-7 L 10-11
April 6 3:00 pm John Wood Parkland College
April 7 3:00 pm Lindenwood JV Parkland College
April 8 3:00 pm Danville Parkland College
April 10 3:00 pm Kankakee Parkland College
April 11 1:00 pm Lincoln Land Parkland College
April 12 1:00 pm Lincoln Land Springfield, IL
April 15 3:00 pm ICC Parkland College
April 17 2:30 pm Lincoln Trail Robinson, IL
April 18 1:00 pm Heartland Normal, IL
April 19 1:00 pm Heartland Parkland College
April 21 3:00 pm Olney Central Parkland College
April 22 3:00 pm Danville Parkland College
April 24 3:00 pm South Suburban S. Holland, IL
April 25-26 1:00 pm TBA
April 30-May 2 TBA Region 24 Tournament Mattoon, Il.
May 6-9 TBA District Tournament Region 24 Runner-Up

Softball schedule 2015

Freshman Hannah Gawthorp slides under the tag and scores a Cobra run in the sixth inning of the game against the UI Club Team on Thursday, April 2, 2015. Parkland went on to win the game 10-6.
‘Furious 7’ races past expectations with $143.6 million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The high-octane ‘Furious 7’ spoiled of the genre in its opening weekend, picking up a stunning $143.6 million from 4,004 locations to easily top the domestic box office, according to Rentrak estimates Sunday.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

‘It probably created some curiosity, but at the same time, (the film) fits in so well with the overall continuing saga of the ‘Fast and Furious’ franchise,” said Nick Carpou, Universal’s president of domestic distribution, said of Walker.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

While the ‘Fast and Furious’ films have grown in popularity over the past three films, the mega-opening for ‘Furious 7’ was also at least partially tied to audience interest in star Paul Walker, who died in a car crash in Nov. 2013 before the film was completed.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.

Production on ‘Furious 7’ was halted while the filmmakers and Universal decided whether or not to proceed with the film. The studio later decided to delay the release from its originally scheduled July 2014 date.