

PARKLAND

Vision:

In our society, we often do not see or hear about the positives associated with teaching. We want to provide a perspective from the point of view of teachers and future teachers.

Submissions may include:

- Positive experiences you have had while teaching or working in education
- Ideas that are supportive of teaching and teachers
- Information that allows the reader to see the reality of teaching
- Effective teaching strategies or lessons to be used in the classroom
- It is fine to have both sides of an issue, as long as the blame is not placed on the teacher

How to submit your blog postings for review:

- Submit your information to blog masters who will then choose which submissions will be posted
- Submit your entries to:
pceducationblog@yahoo.com
- Visit and bookmark the blog at:
<http://virtual.parkland.edu/clarenas/blog/index.cfm>

PARKLAND

Vision:

In our society, we often do not see or hear about the positives associated with teaching. We want to provide a perspective from the point of view of teachers and future teachers.

Submissions may include:

- Positive experiences you have had while teaching or working in education
- Ideas that are supportive of teaching and teachers
- Information that allows the reader to see the reality of teaching
- Effective teaching strategies or lessons to be used in the classroom
- It is fine to have both sides of an issue, as long as the blame is not placed on the teacher

How to submit your blog postings for review:

- Submit your information to blog masters who will then choose which submissions will be posted
- Submit your entries to:
pceducationblog@yahoo.com
- Visit and bookmark the blog at:
<http://virtual.parkland.edu/clarenas/blog/index.cfm>

PARKLAND

Vision:

In our society, we often do not see or hear about the positives associated with teaching. We want to provide a perspective from the point of view of teachers and future teachers.

Submissions may include:

- Positive experiences you have had while teaching or working in education
- Ideas that are supportive of teaching and teachers
- Information that allows the reader to see the reality of teaching
- Effective teaching strategies or lessons to be used in the classroom
- It is fine to have both sides of an issue, as long as the blame is not placed on the teacher

How to submit your blog postings for review:

- Submit your information to blog masters who will then choose which submissions will be posted
- Submit your entries to:
pceducationblog@yahoo.com
- Visit and bookmark the blog at:
<http://virtual.parkland.edu/clarenas/blog/index.cfm>

PARKLAND

Vision:

In our society, we often do not see or hear about the positives associated with teaching. We want to provide a perspective from the point of view of teachers and future teachers.

Submissions may include:

- Positive experiences you have had while teaching or working in education
- Ideas that are supportive of teaching and teachers
- Information that allows the reader to see the reality of teaching
- Effective teaching strategies or lessons to be used in the classroom
- It is fine to have both sides of an issue, as long as the blame is not placed on the teacher

How to submit your blog postings for review:

- Submit your information to blog masters who will then choose which submissions will be posted
- Submit your entries to:
pceducationblog@yahoo.com
- Visit and bookmark the blog at:
<http://virtual.parkland.edu/clarenas/blog/index.cfm>