Classroom Participation

RIGHT: Law enforcement is an absorbing subject with Jim Whetstone. BELOW: Student cooperation is sometimes more helpful than instructor guidance.

MIDDLE RIGHT: Here two students practice to improve their skills. RIGHT: Psychology produces food for thought, especially when having it from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
LEFT: In the spring many summery thoughts fill our minds, even during English. BELOW: For Joe Palmer studying at the last minute, when under pressure is the best method. BOTTOM: Maybe our instructor won’t show up today, wishes Debbie Schmall, as other students make plans for the free hour.
Learning Through Doing

Center Scenes

The Student Center housed offices and leisure areas for the benefit of all students. Almost any information a student couldn't obtain from his advisor could be found here. Besides taking care of business one could play cards, eat, watch a movie, get together with his friends or occasionally study. These experiences truly contributed to the furtherment of our futures in finding ourselves through others.

Varied interests may be satisfied when meeting with the gang for an afternoon.
Student Life
TOP: Denise Hinton, working during registration, insures that students' fees are correctly coded and quickly lets them pass through the line. ABOVE: "If you want your schedule, you'll have to give me your correct name." RIGHT: In following the red line, this student attempts walking it tightrope style.
Registration

Bands Provide Entertainment

The bands, singers, and concerts are "in" around Parkland. Entertainment ranges from hard rock for the wild ones, folk music for the country enthusiasts and jazz concerts for the relaxed listener. All in all, there's something for everyone.

UPPER RIGHT: Some band members get a breather while the trumpeters become the center of attraction. RIGHT: Two drummers give it all they've got. ABOVE: This group is tuning up in preparation for their concert.
ABOVE: Many hours of practice are put forth to make a really great group.
Black History

Many activities highlighted Black History Week. Speakers, bands and dancers demonstrated their cultural traditions with knowledge of previous experiences brought to attentive Parkland audiences.
Health Week

Speakers

Many speakers appeared throughout the year to voice their ideas and encourage students to reveal their opinions. They ranged from drug rehabilitation to new voter policies. Each seemed to have something worthwhile and provocative to keep students aware of activities in their surroundings. We thank them for exerting the effort to increase our knowledge through talks and demonstrations.
A Day In The Park

This festival, held in Westside Park, drew a vast crowd of students. Bands played throughout the day with food and drinks available from club members. All seemed to find it relaxing and enjoyable.

LEFT: Once the bands are set up, the beat goes on. BELOW: Students casually spend the afternoon absorbing the sun and music.

LEFT: Getting in a comfortable position is the first step toward an enjoyable afternoon. ABOVE: Being with one's favorite friends is the best part of all!
ABOVE: Karen Austin signs her name and I.D. Number in the registration book before voting. ABOVE RIGHT: All votes are placed in the ballot box by the voter to insure no fallacies are committed. RIGHT: Election Board members, Debbie Tempel, Jack Dunne, and Jennie Goines, volunteer their hours at the booth and in tallying the votes with Richard Karch, Assistant Dean of Student Activities.
June 10 was the big evening for many Parkland Graduates at the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Dr. Norman Graebner, History Professor at the University of Virginia, was the guest speaker with the musical entertainment provided by soloist, Robert Ingram. Dr. William Staerkel and John Mathews, Chairman of the Board, congratulated each candidate for graduation. Following the ceremonies, a reception was held for the graduates in the main lobby.
Organizations

Ski Club

Ski Club is Parkland College's social and fun club. This year they had two parties at Dooley's and went to LaCrosse, Wisconsin for a ski trip. Pictured here is the Ski Club advisor, Mr. Darwin Shroyer, with one of the club's members, Jon Crispen.

Chi Theta Alpha

Chi Theta Alpha, Parkland College's construction technology organization, is a new addition to Parkland. Chartered in March, the group provides all construction technology students with a means of organized expression in college affairs and promotes social and cultural activities. Because of its late start, Chi Theta Alpha had no social events, but plans to be an active contribution to Parkland this fall.

One of Parkland College's more serviceable organizations is Phi Beta Lambda. By being affiliated with the national business organization, Phi Beta Lambda can offer more to its members. This year six members attended a state convention, learning much to help prepare for the business world. A pizza party and a picnic were among the social activities this past year. Above are pictures from their night at Shakey's.

Tau Epsilon

Perhaps the most socially active club at Parkland was Chi Gamma Iota. This club was an honorary organization for veterans. It aimed to promote scholastic achievement and the acceptance and participation in civic projects. Chi Gamma Iota sponsored an Easter egg hunt for area underprivileged children, worked with delinquency prevention and rehabilitation. They also offer the latest information on veteran’s benefits and legislation. Their productive year was climaxed May 23 with their annual dinner and election of officers. Chi Gamma Iota’s President, Dave Freidmann, was the winner of the Student Achievement Recognition Award for his accomplishments in Chi Gamma Iota and other clubs.

Veterans Association

Parkland Veterans Association was an active part of our college life this year. They promoted cooperation between all vets and active duty personnel for social and educational purposes. The vets held three social events and operated the Used Book Store. They are the co-sponsor of Boy Scout troop # 100. In addition, the Vets Association participated in Youth Alternatives, Inc. an organization dedicated to delinquency prevention. Their goal is to promote veterans benefits in this area, as they are part of a state-wide organization.
Phi Alpha Chi

Chorus

Parkland Nurses

Nursing Class of 1973

Student Nurse Association

The Parkland College Student Nurse Association was the proud and deserving recipient of the Organization of the Year award. It was awarded to them at the Awards and Recognition Banquet, in May.

Awards Banquet

The 1972 Honors Banquet, held at Redwood Inn, featured active club members and sport awardees. Inter-Organizational Council planned the dinner and their president, Terry Cassidy presented the club awards. Those present received plaques while the athletes were recognized. Several special awards were presented including Organization of the Year and a thank-you award to Judi Koeberlein, Student Activities Secretary who was at hand when needed to boost club enthusiasm and activities.

The golfer's dream, as he stands searching the grassy fairway, is not of cheers and crowds as other athletes do. Rather, he prays for a true drive, a ball near the cup and perhaps one that drops in. The Parkland golfers this year were not sure of themselves and some may even claim they were poor.

The cross country team spent the fall running under a scorching sun or stumbling across the finish line after four chilling miles of fighting wintery winds. The team's most exceptional runner, Wayne Angel, placed sixth in the conference meet. The rest of the team built toward the future, which formed the nucleus of our cross country squad. Yet these young men would all agree that all the sweat, the blisters, and the frozen runs were worth it.

BELOW: Exceptional runner and comedian, Wayne Angel, is elevated after the conference meet. RIGHT: Golfer Garry Vandenbarg displays proper form on the green.
Hard Mats

After endless hours of sweating off pounds and an infinite number of laps run, the Parkland Grapplers took to their mats. Our matmen won 84 of 130 individual matches and as a team went 7-7 even though they had to forfeit up to half the matches. In the Region IV tournament Parkland finished 10th. Chester Lewis was the best finisher for Parkland winning his division in that meet and placing 8th nationally.

The 1971-72 Cobra basketball team was perhaps the best yet for Parkland College. The 15-11 cagers played in a rented high school gym in front of empty bleachers and with press coverage consisting of a paragraph a week in the daily papers and 8/11 of a page in each Prospectus. The talent was available, the bodies, the hands and the skills to go much further, but the lack of support cut deeply into our Cobra’s morale.

Running To Arizona

Parkland's track team had only one goal, which was to go to Mesa, Arizona for the NJCAA National Championships. Six men that went are Wayne Angel, Willie Claiborn, Sverre Falck-Pedersen, James Hampton, and Wardie Sain. Falck-Pedersen, Hampton, Malloy and Sain are our mile relay team, Falck-Pedersen qualified for the 440 Intermediate Hurdles, Hampton for the 220-yard dash, Claiborn in the high jump and Angel both qualified for the 440 hurdles and brought home the 5th place trophy.

The entire team of ten took second place in conference, third in region 4, and generally had a good time riding in the back of station wagons and eating smorgasbords toward bankruptcy.

Cheerleaders

Parkland had six admirable cheerleaders: Shelley Archer, Sen nie Goines, Terry McCulley, Connie Simpson, Barb Ware, and Cindy Widloski. Unlike the athletes, the cheerleaders are happiest when our team gets the praise, rather than themselves. The girls practice as much as the guys on the court and are hurt as much by the losses and the empty stands. These girls' cheerful smiles surely urged our team on to victory.
The Parkland baseball team started early en route to a 13-9 season. Coach Reed's diamond men played an up-down season, no doubt a result of the worst weather in years that occurred. Their commendable performance, like our other sports, was in front of near-empty stands in a borrowed field. Yet, we'll get 'em next year!

Caught In The Act

ABOVE: Ed Kelly mixes relaxation and reading, but then fatigue wins out. UPPER RIGHT: All of our Vets know exactly who to see when they have a problem since Mrs. Lipkin handles them eight hours a day. RIGHT: Counselor, Jim Lyles, discovers that interruptions are a usual part of his day.

Conveniamus
Staff

Our 1971-72 CONVENIAMUS began during the winter spending that first quarter getting organized financially, structurally and with staff training. Spring Quarter was a very busy time for us as many pictures had to be taken, copy written and final work completed. We hope you enjoy it.
